The third and last game of the series The third and last game of the series between the Norfolk and Portsmouth learns took place yesterday afternoon before a fair-sized audience, the majority of which, however, came from Yortsmouth to see their pets keep up their record in winning games from the home team. In this they were not disappointed, for at the end of the game the score stood 6 to 4 against the Oyssermen. This defeat should have been a victory, for the locals put "ginger" a victory, for the locals put "ginger" in their work, and played with a snap and vim that was really refreshing.
They certainly hit the ball hard and often, when the fact that Brandt pitched is taken in consideration. But somehow the errors that were made were costly, which, in conjunc-tion with the fact that Portsmouth took desperate chances in running home, is about what lost the game. The only brilliant feature of the game was the fine stop made by Reed of the hot liner from McGaun's bat, it being so warm that he dropped it but fielded the ball in time to throw the runner out at first. Below is the score:

A GRADUAL DIMINUTION.

The Deficit Not Expected to be Below Forty-five Millions.

By Southern Associated Press.

Washington, June 1.—The comparative statement of the receipts and expenditures for the month of May shows a gradual diminution of the deficiency during the past ten days, but it is not expected that under the most favorable conditions the deficit at the end of the fiscal year can be brought much, if any, below $45,000,000.

The last month of the fiscal year opens with expenditures $200,000 in excess of receipts, while the total deficit stands at $46,957,202. The May statement shows the receipts for the month to be $25,272,078 and the expenditures $28,558,213, a deficit during the whole month of $3,286,135.

For the even months of the fiscal year ended yesterday the receipts were $287,696,691 and the expenditures $234,452,186, a deficit of almost $47,000,000. For the month of May, 1894, the deficit was $6,632,146. For the corresponding period of eleven months for the fiscal year 1894, the total deficit was $6,692,000,000. By Southern Associated Press.

Statement of the Associated Banks Shows $1,246,100 Increase. The Gain of Net Cash During the Week Was $2,327,600, Yet the Statement Can Hardly be Regarded as an Indication of Reviving Business.

By Southern Associate | Press.

New York, June 1.—The Financier says there is seemingly no cessation in says there is seemingly no cessation in the movement of money toward this center. The statement of the Associated Banks of New York for the week just ended shows an increase of $1,-246,100 in the excess reserve, which is now over $40,000,000 as compared with the low figure of less than half this amount reported some months since, when the bank had finished paying for the second issue of government bonds. While the demand for money is seen in the increase of $2,418,500 in loans for the current week, the statement can hardly be regarded as a favorable indication of reviving business since the loans in this market are offset by the heavy receipts from the interior, the gain for the past six days from this source being in the neighborhood of three and one in the neighborhood of three and one half million dollars.

The net deposits as might have been expected increased heavily, the gain being $4,326,000. The net cash during the week was $2,327,500, of which being $1,326,000. The net cash during the week was $2,327,500, of which $3,050,600 was in specie and $1,271,000 legal tenders.

Despite the unfavorable features mentioned, it is a fact that the New York banks have only twice exceeded the volume of loans, namely: On December 8 and December 15, 1894, and the heavy increase on those dates were probably brought about by figuring new United States bonds as loans to the Government.

the Government.
On November 3d last, however, de

On November 3d last, however, deposits were reported at $595,104,900, the highest figure reached during the year, or $28,875,500 more than the bank's clearing at present.

There is room for encouragement in this fact, but to demonstrate a really prosperous era the statement will first have to show that money, while coming to New York in the natural order of business, is yet needed at other points, and therefore being withdrawn, insteed of remaining to swell the idle surplus fund.
